SME's Bio

Dr Atul Bamrara received his PhD in Cyber Security from HNB Garhwal University. He shares his expertise in Research Methodology, Technology Management, Information Security, Mathematics Education and Education Technology with students of Business Management, Computer Science and School Education in India and abroad. He is currently working with the Department of School Education, Government of Uttarakhand - India. His responsibilities include training to various in-service teachers in the areas of ICT Integration, Foundational Numeracy, Mathematics Pedagogy, e-content development etc. He has received National Award on Innovative Practices 2022 from NCERT New Delhi, Young Scientist Award 2018 from UCOST, and Science Education Extension Award 2023 from USERC for his innovative approaches. He has published 37 research papers in reputed journals of Information Security, Education Technology and Technology Management.